

P.L.A.R.S.S. House we harvest our own water, reuse and recycle our waste, grow our own food and produce our own energy!

10-Star Rated Systems!

Harvesting Recycling of Water, a Drought Resistant System

1. Rain water roof catchment. Cistern collection storage of rain water in our state of the art filtering system. Our 2,000 gallon cistern is equal to 10,000 gallons of water because the water is captured, reused and harvested 5 times as it recycles and regenerates and renews its way through the sustainable systems of the home.

2. Waste water treatment cell has a proprietary preferred terrain wetland with a renewable regeneration waste treatment management system. It provides potable water to indoor rain forest cells featuring trees and plant varieties and much more to a zoned compartmentalized encapsulated passive solar, and mechanically controlled closed loop indoor atmosphere that provides oxygen, medicine and food that reuses recycles and harvests the water up to 5 times. It manages compartmental green room temperatures to reduce energy costs.

3. The plants and trees give off moisture via transpiration that is collected from the atmosphere to a water desiccant machine that collects pure drinking water.

4. Any treated Class 1 excess water goes to feeding "outside gardens". In so doing this water will not harm any flows to rivers and thence to oceans, a must have drought protected home!
